ABSTRACT

The petitioners state that as the plague has been raging in Kadur for more than two months the inhabitants have left the place and their customers from other places do not come to their shops through fear; that they have thus been unable to vend toddy; that they have paid up their instalment for February by borrowing; but that they could not pay up the instalment of Rs 280 for March; that the authorities have removed the local fair to a distant place; that their attempt to vend toddy there failed, as there was not a sufficient gathering; that this failure prevents them to make another attempt in the subsequent fairs; and that they have suffered great loss.

They pray that for the above reasons the instalments for February and March may be remitted; and that the instalment already paid up for February be refunded.
